

Car Tour to St. Michaels

by Thomas Kenney

The Antique & Classic Boat Festival in St. Michaels, Maryland is traditionally held Fathers Day weekend at the Chesapeake Bay Maritime Museum. Many of the boats were present for judging which is not unlike our AACA meets.

Here is how it unfolded:

Meet near the Bay Bridge on Friday at noon, and travel to our motel and check in. Shop in Cambridge, then travel to Oxford for a walking tour. Take the antique cars on a ferry ride to Bellevue. Eat dinner on the waterfront at the Masthead followed by Scottish Ice Cream at the Highland Creamery.

And that was just day one!

Day two started with a relaxed breakfast and then a group drive to Navy Point on the grounds of the Maritime Museum. We set up our chairs in a shaded pavilion overlooking the cars and boats on display. After lunch, we took a walking tour of downtown St. Michaels. We left after 3:30 with the goal of getting home before dark.

The Chesapeake travelers were:

Lewis and Wanda Mendenhall
Read Van Zile and Joanne Day
Joe & Florann Sordillo
John & Lynn Horn
Tom & Anne Kenney

We were invited to come back next year and encouraged to bring more cars! Think about joining in on the fun next time.
